

PETG

PETG is an alternative to acrylic. It is cheaper and more durable. You are limited in the different colors and thicknesses but it can be machined, bent, and assembled just as easily. We use PETG mainly in creating marquees and components for video games and also creating custom literature pockets. PETG is also available in a matte or satin finish.